O THOU YON PILLARS, ivied through the years
Uniting past and present, hopes and fears
Gives us thy strength
That we may give to thee a greater art
Engendered by the power that is thy part
In these our lives
We won't forget the ancient for the new
We'll keep alive the revered dream of you.

BUCKNELL has come of age. Decades ago, men of vision laid a solid foundation to a truly great institution of learning and inspiration. High ideals have been realized, but the highest ideals as it must be in life, lie before us. Our leading men to-day again are men of vision. What they visualize will be reality. Those who are now gathering stones to this structure will be able to share in its noblest achievements. We see the earnest of what is to come. Our faith in the spirit engendering the vision and our confidence in the ultimate realization of it are continually strengthened. Merely a stone in that structure of ideals, 1936 L'AGENDA is hereby dedicated to the Bucknell of tomorrow.

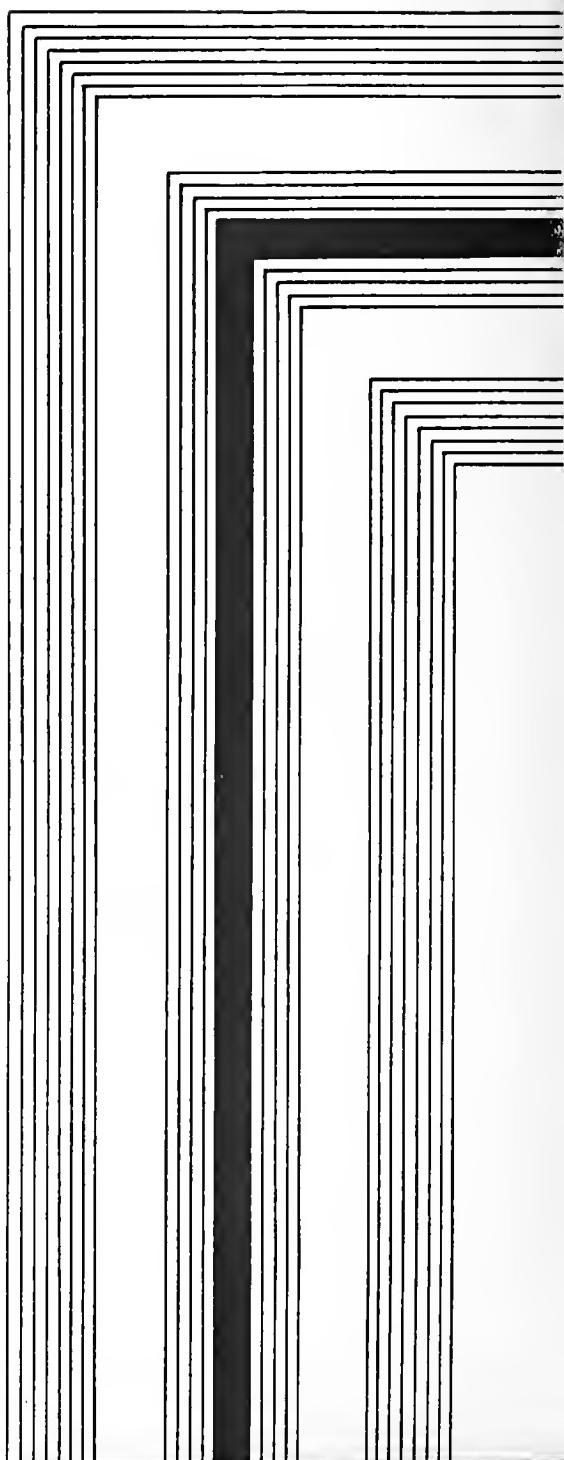

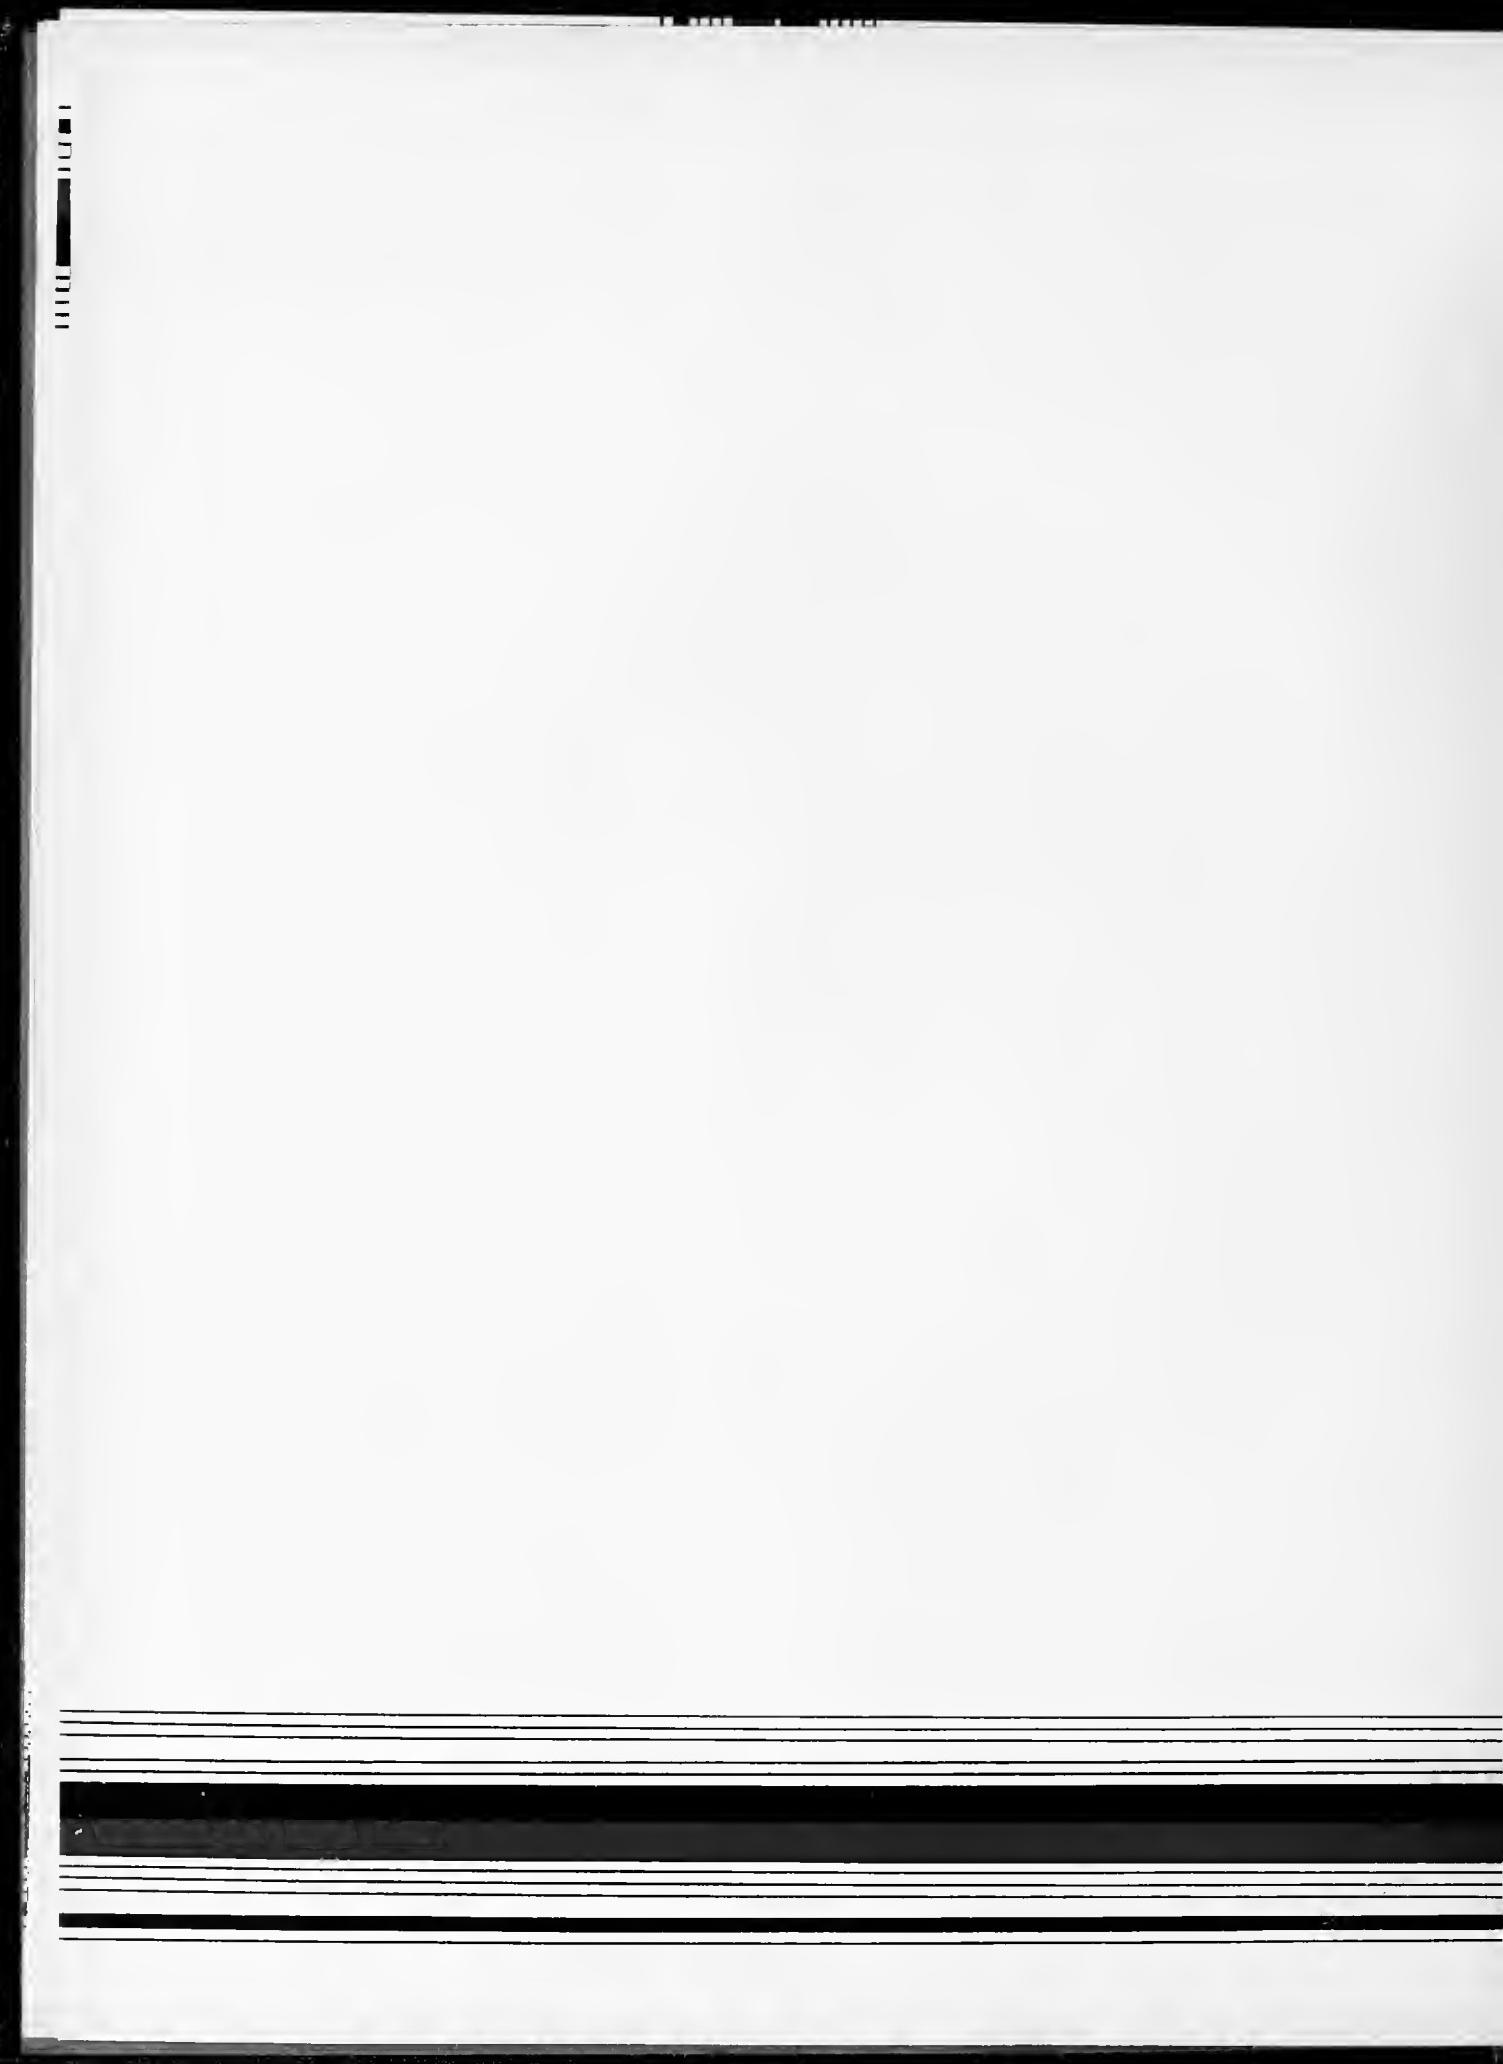

THIS BOOK is not a tome to be stacked in the recesses of the mind and referred to as such; it is a condensation of life; a cross-graining of three years that have been lived according to our own dictates. In it we have attempted to encompass only those things that have richly colored the tapestry of events. The pattern includes triumphs of the mind and body that have vivified these years. It is not a chronicled history, not a delineation of dried facts. The editors have made it a photomontage of the makings of the modern mind. We ARE modernists, evolutionizing and revolutionizing, and it is these years that have furnished us with the mental stamina to cope with the serious competition that confronts the thinking man and woman both in and out of college.

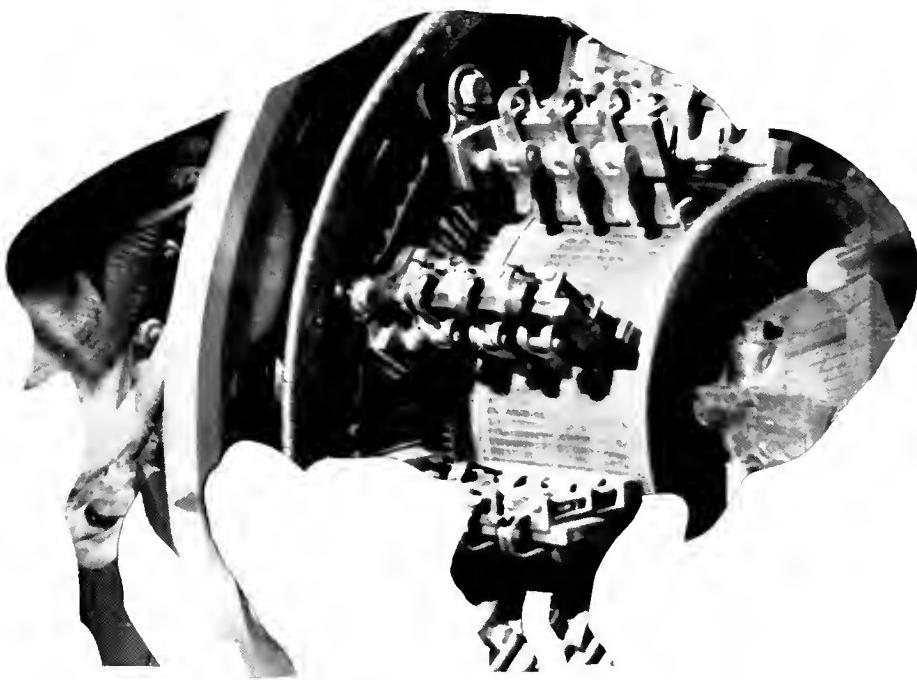

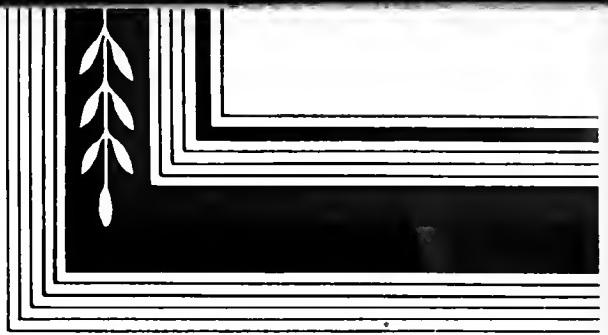

Worlds of space must separate us after graduation, and it is the purpose of this book to serve as a leit-motif through the years to recall a period of development and beauty.

C. HENDERSON SUPPLEE

From the roster of the University trustees was stricken by death the name of C. Henderson Supplee, who died at his home in Indian Creek Road, September 10, 1934.

A recognized leader in American business, his passing was mourned by the nation's notables. Bucknell University indeed lost a friend for whom she had the warmest of affections.

DR. FRANK E. ROCKWOOD

When Dr. Frank E. Rockwood, professor of the Latin language and literature from 1885 to 1917 and first dean of the University, died in Overbrook on January 2, 1935, Bucknell mourned the passing of a man of respected scholastic attainment.

Author of esteemed translations as well as enthusiast for Bucknell athletics, Dr. Rockwood, although a Brown graduate, had taken Bucknell close to his heart. Fate has taken a distinguished name from the faculty roll.

PRESIDENT
HOMER • P
RAINEY • •

DR. HOMER P. RAINNEY came to Bucknell in November, 1931, to accept the presidency of the University. Prior to serving as Bucknell's president, he was president of Franklin College. Dr. Rainey, a native Texan, guides and directs the policies of the University. President Rainey graduated from Ferris Academy and Austin College. The University of Chicago awarded him his Ph.D. degree in 1924.

THE DEANS

GRADUATED from Bucknell University in the class of 1897, Dr. Romeyn H. Rivenburg came to serve his Alma Mater as Dean of the College in September, 1933. He acts as adviser to all students enrolled in the University. During his twelve years' service, he has offered many helpful suggestions to the students concerning their curriculums and has been a sympathetic listener to their problems.

AMELIA E. CLARK became a member of the Bucknell faculty in 1924, serving as a French teacher. In 1925, she was appointed Acting Dean of Women, and the following year she was made Dean of Women. She has been a sympathetic counselor to all the University women. This genial, understanding woman received her degrees from Elmira College and from Columbia University.

DEAN J. HILLIS MILLER received a call from Bucknell in 1930 to serve as Dean of Freshmen and Associate Professor of Psychology. In February, 1933, he was chosen as Dean of Students. Dean Miller comes in constant contact with students through personal conferences. Always approachable, he has helped many students overcome perplexing problems. He earned his degrees at the University of Richmond and the University of Virginia.

THE UNIVERSITY COUNCIL •

ON November 30, 1932, the University Council was founded for the purpose of conducting any affairs which are difficult to handle in a session of the entire faculty. The Council acts as a permanent executive committee for the faculty and makes any recommendations to them that they deem necessary. Through this organization, which is composed of officers of the administration and heads of the departments, many of the old faculty committees have been abolished.

This competent group of men deal primarily with problems relating to the curriculum. During the school year, 1934-35, they have done much towards educational reorganization within the University. Besides curriculum problems, the Council is responsible for any business concerning admission, attendance, standing, courses, registration, rules, regulations, and the summer session and extension. They discuss, consider, and approve various measures relevant to these subjects.

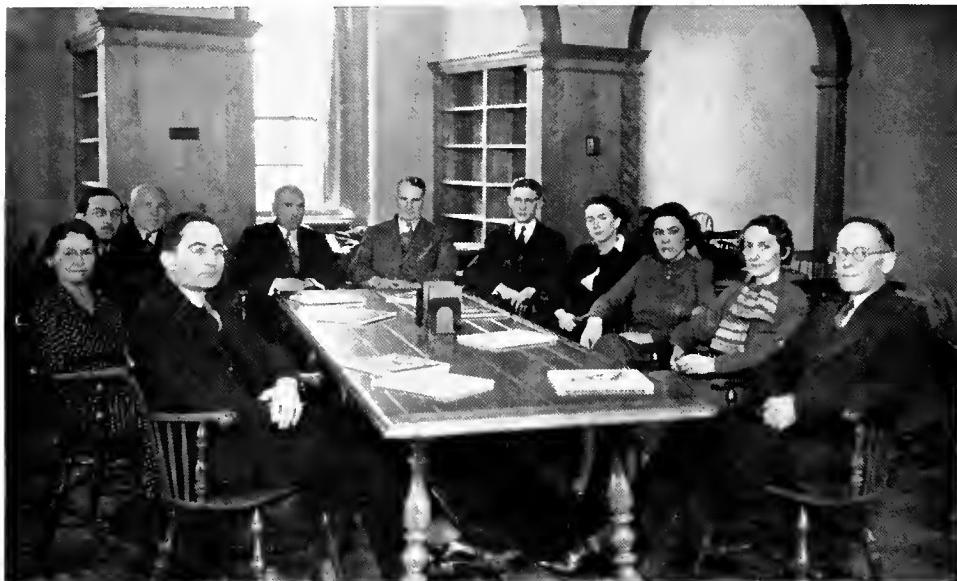

The members of this ex-officio body are as follows: President, Homer P. Rainey; Director of the Junior College and Summer Extension, J. H. Eisenhauer; Dean of the College, R. H. Rivenburg; Dean of the Students, J. Hillis Miller; Registrar, H. W. Holter; and the Chairmen of the Five Academic Groups, S. C. Ogburn, H. W. Robbins, R. L. Sutherland, F. M. Simpson, and G. B. Lawson.

LANGUAGE GROUP

H. W. Robbins, Chairman

ENGLISH, French, German, Latin, and Spanish courses are offered at Bucknell University providing adequate programs for undergraduate or graduate specialization in each of these languages. The purpose of these studies is not only to give the student a command of the language in speaking, reading, and writing, but also to give him an understanding of the national character and institutions of the users of the language, as these are revealed in their literatures.

Students are prepared for work as teachers, writers, translators, journalists, and foreign correspondents, and for professions like those of clergymen, lawyers, and diplomats, in which familiarity with a foreign language and considerable facility in written and spoken English are essential.

SOCIAL SCIENCE GROUP • •

as these, the Social Sciences at Bucknell have two principal objectives: an understanding of historical precedents of present day trends; and training in techniques of scientific analysis.

IS the depression just another phase of the business cycle, or does it represent more basic changes in our economic life? What is the significance of the present trend toward central control in government? How may we account for the prevalence of crime and corruption in the United States? Have changes in family life affected individual development? In directing their attention toward such problems

In addition to general educational objectives, Social Science work at Bucknell also has vocational value. Special programs of study are arranged for students who are interested in such fields as the following: the various business vocations, law, government service, teaching, secretarial work, and social work.

NATURAL • SCIENCE •
GROUP • •

FRANK M. SIMPSON, Chairman

THE purpose for grouping the Natural Sciences is to bring before the student the various fields of Science in a logical manner, to facilitate the selection of a major interest subject, to indicate the logical sequence of subject matter in the field selected, and to bring the student into contact with the proper advisory influence early in college life. Students who major in Science or Mathematics should arrange, through the chairman of the group, to have an adviser appointed at the earliest possible date. With this arrangement, the student who majors in this group should be in a position to carry his college work to a successful conclusion.

PHILOSOPHY AND THE ARTS GROUP

self, the mind and its function, the interpretation of his world in its totality and deepest meaning and his relation to

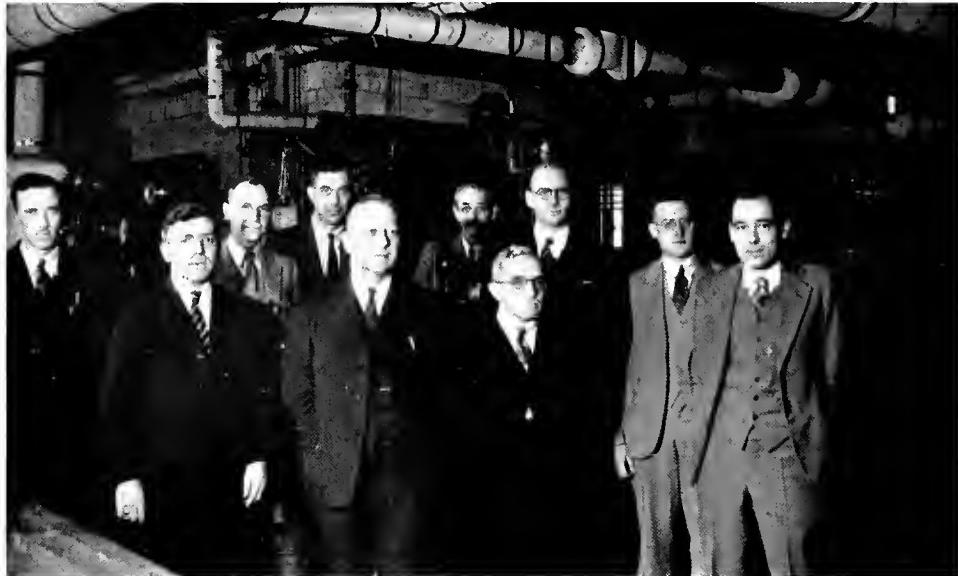

GEORGE B. LAWSON, Chairman
Conference with Dr. Rainey

THE Philosophy and the Arts Group was formed for administrative convenience more than from logical relation, yet there is a vital unity in the departments embraced, for they all describe the realm of values. No student is content to pursue specific or technical ends and not secure some understanding of the wider reaches of human culture and interest . . . the knowledge of the self; the reality and ultimate values of the spiritual order and his relation to the Infinite; the appreciation of beauty expressed in the arts and their significance for advancing culture. The more liberal the background for specific knowledge and skill the greater the self-enrichment, social sympathy and usefulness.

ENGINEERING GROUP • •

SIHON C. OGBURN, JR., Chairman

THE primary purpose of an engineering education is to equip one for a career of service in the control and utilization of the forces and materials of nature; the organization of human effort for these purposes; and the estimation of costs and appraisal of the economic and social values involved in these activities. Thus the program of study is so arranged as to give the student the necessary fundamental background to enable him to plan and direct these projects.

Bucknell has successfully trained men in the field of engineering for more than a quarter of a century. Degree courses are offered in Chemical Engineering, Civil Engineering, Electrical Engineering, and Mechanical Engineering.

The principal advantages of the Bucknell engineering program include an active interest on the part of the faculty in meeting the needs of the individual student, an unsurpassed curricula, an excellent faculty, and adequate library and laboratory facilities.

LIBRARY STAFF • •

THE Library provides pleasant and quiet surroundings for serious study. On the main floor there are two smaller reading rooms in addition to the main reading room and reference room. The periodical room and periodical stacks are on the second floor, and there are three reading rooms in connection with the reserve desk on the lowest floor.

It aims to serve the students in their various needs. An open shelf system is used in the main floor of the library. Students have the privilege of selecting from the shelves the materials which they may wish to use. A more restricted use is necessary for class assignments and is served from the reserve desk. Lists and displays of new books induce the student to reading for enjoyment and recreation. In the periodical room the current issues of magazines may be leafed over by the student at will.

It aims to aid the faculty in student contacts by correlating assignments with library facilities, and in individual projects by securing material for research.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Student Government

J. HILLIS MILLER
Dean of Students

The active organization of the Student Government centers around the office of the Dean of Students, J. Hillis Miller.

BUCKNELL Student Government has its basis in the desire of faculty and student groups alike, that campus activities and policies toward student interests should be outlined by students themselves in cooperation with representative members of the administration.

Student-Faculty Congress

OUTSTANDING and central among student organizations is the Student-Faculty Congress, which has for its active members twelve faculty advisers from the Personnel Council along with eighteen representatives of various campus interest groups. This Congress legislates on all student matters except those having to do with academic affairs and with student discipline.

The Congress seeks to demonstrate self government, to have jurisdiction over activities, and to effect contribution to the welfare of the University as a whole. The year's officers were Allen Farrington, President; Ramon Spritzler, Vice-President; Gibson Logue, Secretary and Treasurer.

Women's Student Senate

THE Women's Student Senate is the legislative, executive, and judicial body of the Women's College. The social policies of women students constitute one of the major fields of Senate legislation. The Senate is composed of two representatives from each social group and includes eight seniors, five juniors, and four sophomores. The president, a senior is elected in the second semester of her junior year.

The officers of the 1934-35 school year were Esther Powell, President; Gertrude Carey, Vice-President; Elizabeth McMahon, Secretary; and Ruth Donnally, Treasurer.

JUNIOR CLASS

THE Class of 1936 has participated consistently and prominently in every field of student activity. Their contributions, individually and as a group, to the best interests of the student body and of Bucknell University have been beyond all normal proportions.

During the 1934-35 college year the class was again outstanding in the presentation of social events; its most remarkable achievement was the highly successful Junior Prom which featured Isham Jones' music.

The Class of 1936 In Campus Politics

CAMPUS politics with all of its deep-laid intrigues mirrors the super-organization of the national party strategem. In the election of class officers during three-year Class of 1936 history there have been hotly contested battles between the two leading factions, the Independent Coalition headed by Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Sigma Chi fraternities, and the Phi Gam-Phis Psi clique, now known as the Cooperative Party. The non-fraternity group has maintained an aloofness from any definite tie with either of the combines.

FRESHMAN ELECTION

In September of 1932 the class still a novice in the organization method of elections selected its officers without an element of clique line-up. Byron Stillwell, ex-'36, was made president with Howard Clark, vice-president, Margery M. Treneer, ex-'36, secretary, and Harriet Speyer, ex-'36, treasurer.

SOPHOMORE OFFICERS

The Sophomore year brought an induction into party elections. The Independent Coalition backed by the non-fraternity interest held such unquestioned control that only feeble resistance was offered it in the elections. The class presidency went to Armand Verga, with Edward Reisman, vice-president, Edward McKee, secretary, and Lillie Brown, treasurer.

JUNIOR OFFICERS

The Barker bill passed by the Student-Faculty Congress in the spring of 1934 established a Board of Elections for election regulation; the reform act required that candidates for offices must meet definite academic and activities qualifications. Unprecedented interest followed the election campaign with a record vote turn-out as the climax. A new combine, the Cooperative party, arose from a union of the Phi Gam-Phi Psi and non-fraternity interests; nevertheless, the Independent Coalition succeeded in taking all but two of the campus offices. The slate elected to govern the Junior Class consisted of Howard Clark, president; Jay Snyder, Vice-President; Elizabeth Druckemiller, Secretary; and Leona Lovelick, Treasurer.

most in the field are The Bucknellian, student weekly newspaper; L'Agenda, college annual; and the Student Handbook, published annually for incoming freshmen. Other publications are the Bucknell Verse, a volume of student poetry, and the Commencement News, a four page edition of commencement week activities.

Publications

PUBLICATIONS, at Bucknell, are probably the most active of student endeavor. Their value for both student participation and for chronological recording of all university achievements is enhanced by the esteem that the world holds for graduates who have been active contributors to the various student publications at Bucknell. Fore-

The Board of Publications

THE Board of Publications acts as the controlling and advising body to student publications. It determines the policies and appoints the staffs of the various publications.

The board is comprised of four faculty members and the editors and business manager of each publication represented. The faculty members are Assistant Professor A. L. Brandon; Professor Lewis E. Theiss, H. W. Holter, and Dean of Students J. Hillis Miller, while the student representatives for the 1934-35 school year were William Bowler and Charles Austin, editor and business manager of the Bucknellian; along with Edward Reisman and Edward McKee, editor and business manager of the 1936 L'Agenda.

The Bucknellian

THE Bucknellian is the University weekly newspaper, being published Thursday of each week. This eight page journal is the active laboratory for journalism courses, as well as a field of competition for the student body.

The Bucknellian is a member of the Intercollegiate Newspaper association of the Middle Atlantic States and is generally recognized to be one of the finest collegiate papers in its class, having won coveted prizes in inter-collegiate competition.

the success of this year's team in discussion of the two topics:

"Resolved: That the nations should agree to prevent international shipment of arms and munitions."

"Resolved: That the states should enact legislation providing for socialized medicine."

The men's schedule included Ursinus, Dayton, Davidson, Michigan State, and the University of North Carolina, all at Bucknell. The opening debate was with the Junior College at Wilkes-Barre. On its extended campaign through the Southern states during the spring recess, the team met the representatives of Roanoke, Maryville, Chattanooga, Sewanee, Vanderbilt, Berea, and Kentucky.

The women opened their season with Pennsylvania State at Bucknell. In their home debates they met the following teams: Ohio Wesleyan, Allegheny and West Virginia. Representing Bucknell in the season's major trip were Emily Orr, Elizabeth Hylbert, and Elsa Patton; the teams debated were Trinity, Richmond, Lenoir Rhyne, Furman, Winthrop, North Carolina, and Duke.

Tau Kappa Alpha

TAU KAPPA ALPHA, national honorary oratorical and debating fraternity, was established at Bucknell in 1920. Wherever the key is found, it stands for recognized merit, for membership in the society is granted only for outstanding achievement in the field of oratory or debate, plus unquestioned standing in the active life of the college community. Officers of the group are Samuel Barker, President; Emily Orr, Vice-President; and Trennie Eisley, Secretary-Treasurer.

Active members are Elizabeth Hylbert, Emily Orr, Elsa Patton, Lauren Williams, and Edward Reisman. Professor William H. Coleman is faculty adviser.

DRAMA

PAUL GIES
Symphony Orchestra Conductor

Symphony Orchestra

THE Symphony Orchestra with its subdivisions, the String Quartet and the Collegium Musicum, endeavors to cultivate music of the profound character. The study of the musical creations by the masters of classical and romantic music is the main objective of these organizations.

The highlight of the season was the winter concert with Charles Naegele as guest soloist. In addition to Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony" and Wagner's "Prelude to Die Meistersinger," the orchestra played the accompaniment to Schumann's famous "Piano Concerto in A Minor." The Symphony Orchestra added effectively to the success of the first Spring Festival held at Bucknell and will also play at the 1935 Festival. The organization was commended for its musical support at the performance of Shakespeare's Macbeth." At the nationwide broadcast, March 16, the Symphony Orchestra was featured with the Mixed Chorus in the finale of Wagner's "Die Meistersinger."

String Quartet

THE String Quartet has practiced intimately, almost daily, and, whenever it appeared in public the group brought to our campus life performances of such charm as can only be found in genuine chamber music.

The members of the String Quartet are: Charles Stickney, first violin; Walter Morris, second violin; Charles Shaef, viola; and Rose Ceccolini, cello.

Collegium Musicum

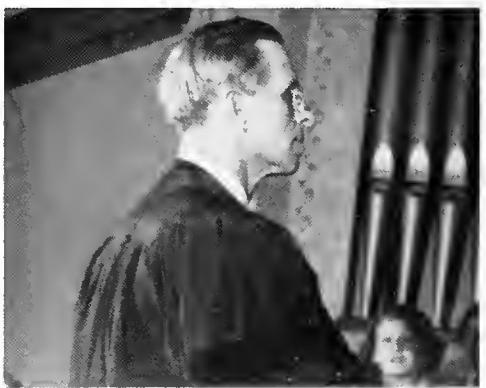

THE Collegium Musicum is the latest addition to this group. It has the purpose to revive old music, especially that of the Renaissance period, as originally as possible. To accomplish this, several historical instruments have been acquired, such as the spinet, the quinton, and flutes.

It is expected to augment the number of old instruments in the near future so that this historical orchestra will be able to fill its cultural aims to the highest degree.

PAUL G. STOLTZ
Conductor of Mixed Chorus

Choral Organizations

THE accomplishment of musical proficiency and the enjoyment of musical participation led increasingly large numbers to Bucknell's choral organizations. These groups are sponsored directly by School of Music and give scholastic credit for participation.

Men's Glee Club

THE Bucknell Men's Glee Club, popular singing group, has grown to a position of prominence among Bucknell activities. Fellowship in song is the keynote of this organization. Under the able direction of Assistant Professor Melvin LeMon, it has achieved new popularity and increased musicianship.

This year the club met with remarkable success on their annual tour. On a ten-day bus trip, which included eighteen concerts in Pennsylvania and New Jersey and several network broadcasts, they sang before thousands of enthusiastic listeners. The season's manager was Harold Evans.

Mixed Chorus

THE Mixed Chorus, comprised of 150 voices, has as its purpose the promotion of good musicianship by bringing together students to study the works of the great masters of music.

During the 1934-35 season the group sang Beethoven's Missa Solemnis, Bach's Passions, Handel's Messiah, Debussy's Blessed Damozel, Pierue's St. Francis of Assisi, and programs of a similar nature.

Bucknell Quartet

A NEWER organization that has achieved much popularity on and away from the campus is the Bucknell Quartet composed of members of the Men's Glee Club. Like the Club the Quartet features largely the songs of Bucknell.

Other singing groups include the Melrose Quartet of women's voices, the Women's Glee Club, and the Special Chorus.

C. WILLARD SMITH
Director

Cap and Dagger

THE combined dramatic interests of Bucknell University are centered in Cap and Dagger, the campus dramatic society. The purposes and functions are well expressed in its constitution: to foster interest among students at Bucknell in the art and craftsmanship of the theater, to train the members of the society in the arts and crafts of the theater, and to work for and to maintain a superior quality of dramatic production at Bucknell.

Officers of the year were: Professor C. Willard Smith, Director; Howard Frank, President; Frederic Erdman, President-Elect; Jacob Lieberman, Vice-President; Edna Hutchinson, Secretary; and Eugene Rohr, Treasurer.

Dramatic Season

THE remarkable success of student drama on the Bucknell campus during the 1934-35 season was climaxed in the all-student production on the Artist Course Series of the Shakespearean tragedy, "Macbeth." The staging of this production was consistent with the high level of Cap and Dagger dramatic endeavor.

For the third time Carl Huus as Macbeth and Madeline Berg as Lady Macbeth were cast in sharing leads. C. Willard Smith served as director assisted by Frederic Erdman. Charles Blumberg headed the technical staff as production manager.

Other productions of the dramatic season were: "The First Mrs. Fraser" by St. John Ervine for the 1934 Spring Festival and Commencement audiences with Lauren Williams, director; Charles Jackson, production manager, Hannah Raphael and Jacob Lieberman in the leading roles. "The Counsellor-at-Law" by Elmer Rice as premiere of the fall season with Lauren Williams, director; Charles Blumberg, production manager; Fred Erdman and Madeline Berg in the stellar roles. "The Late Christopher Bean" for the 1935 Spring Festival with Frederic Erdman, director, and Charles Jackson, production manager.

EVENTS • Frosh Tradition: Upper center shows freshmen in annual water parade and the enforcement of rules dictating the dink and black ties for men with green ribbons and no cosmetics for women

Football Season: Lower center left pictures "Peachy" Kling, major domo of athletic equipment, as he hauls out uniforms to mark the opening of gridiron campaign.

Centennial Program: At the annual Homecoming alumni dinner, President Rainey (lower left) announced plans for $6,000,000 building program to be completed by Bucknell's Centennial in 1946.

Top: Fred Rahe, soccer captain-elect; Eleanor Koshland, Junior representative on C.E.A.; John Sitarsky, football captain-elect, four-letter man (football, basketball, baseball, track); Netta Grick, president of Junior women. Center: Eddie Hutchinson, Cap and Dagger leading lady; Bob Pethick, boxing captain and football man; Ruth Donnelly, secretary of Women's Student Senate and vice-president of Junior women. Bottom: Bud Wilkinson, Bison track flash and football man; Mary Hanning, secretary of Pan-Hellenic Council and C.E.A. member; Rose Ceccolini, celloist in Symphony Orchestra and String Quartet (slightly above to the right—George Horoschak, the boy friend); Beth Druckemiller, treasurer of Junior Class and C.E.A. member

REPRESENTATIVE 1936 •

OFFICERS

William H. Berlin.....	President
Robert Kessler.....	Vice-President
Norman Reed.....	Secretary-Treasurer
Bernard Glazier.....	Representative to Student-Faculty Congress

The Interfraternity Council is composed of a representative from each of the social fraternities on the campus. Its purpose is to promote friendly relations among the fraternal groups and to regulate their rushing activities.

Pertinent changes in future rushing seasons were promulgated, when the Council revised the pledging code eliminating many of the former restrictions.

OFFICERS

Jane Flumerfelt.....	President
Mary Hanning.....	Secretary
Phyllis Hicks.....	Treasurer

The Pan-Hellenic Council consists of two representatives from each of the women's social sororities. It is the advocate of amiable relationships among the Greek-letter organizations. The Council has the regulatory control over the rushing activities of the sororities.

Pan-Hellenic functions are also largely of a social nature. Notable on its calendar of the past year was the tea and house-warming given the incoming freshmen women.

PHI KAPPA PSI

FOUNDED AT JEFFERSON COLLEGE, 1852
PENNSYLVANIA GAMMA CHAPTER
Established, 1855

PEENNSYLVANIA GAMMA CHAPTER of Phi Kappa Psi in its eightieth year of organization continues its fraternal management with capable leaders and brothers of outstanding campus activity. Featuring the present year is the Chapter's acceptance to act as host to the District Council Convention of the National Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity.

Phi Psi men hold many of the larger offices and honors on the campus. Among these are the presidency of Cap and Dagger, the chairmanship of the Father's Day and of the Mother's Day Committees, officers of several of the honorary fraternities, the vice-presidency of the Senior Class, prominent places on the publications, and other positions.

In the athletic field this fraternity has football, soccer, baseball, boxing, and track letter men. Among these are the captain and the manager of the boxing team.

On the night of March 16, Phi Psi and S.A.E. together threw a dance as part of the National Bucknell Night. The annual banquet to the boxing team was given, and a fine house party was held this spring.

SIGMA CHI

FOUNDED AT MIAMI UNIVERSITY, 1855
KAPPA CHAPTER
Established, 1864

KAPPA CHAPTER of Sigma Chi has largely maintained its high position on the Bucknell campus. Men from the chapter are to be found well to the fore in almost all the college activities, especially in the field of athletics. In the past two years Kappa has had captains in football, baseball, basketball, and soccer, and also the largest number of lettermen.

Sigma Chi is rated highly in intramural athletics. The Sigs have taken the Pangburn Intramural Trophy for the past two years.

Kappa members have been active in other fields. They are represented on the publications, in honorary fraternities, and in the musical organizations.

The Sigs consistently present attractive social programs. The Bowery Brawl with all of its novel features is undoubtedly their outstanding dance event of the year. In addition, several successful house dances are presented.

The Sigs' contribution to the all-college social season was the chairmanship of the Junior Prom in the person of Howard Clark, junior class president.

All in all the Sigma Chi fraternity can boast well-balanced participation in campus life.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

FOUNDED AT THE UNIVERSITY OF ALABAMA, 1856

PENNSYLVANIA ZETA CHAPTER

Established, 1893

PEENNSYLVANIA ZETA CHAPTER of Sigma Alpha Epsilon continues to hold its high place among the fraternities of Bucknell University.

The fraternity maintained its high social standing by giving two very successful dances this fall.

Many members belong to and actively participate in the various honorary fraternities. The publications are well represented by the members of this chapter.

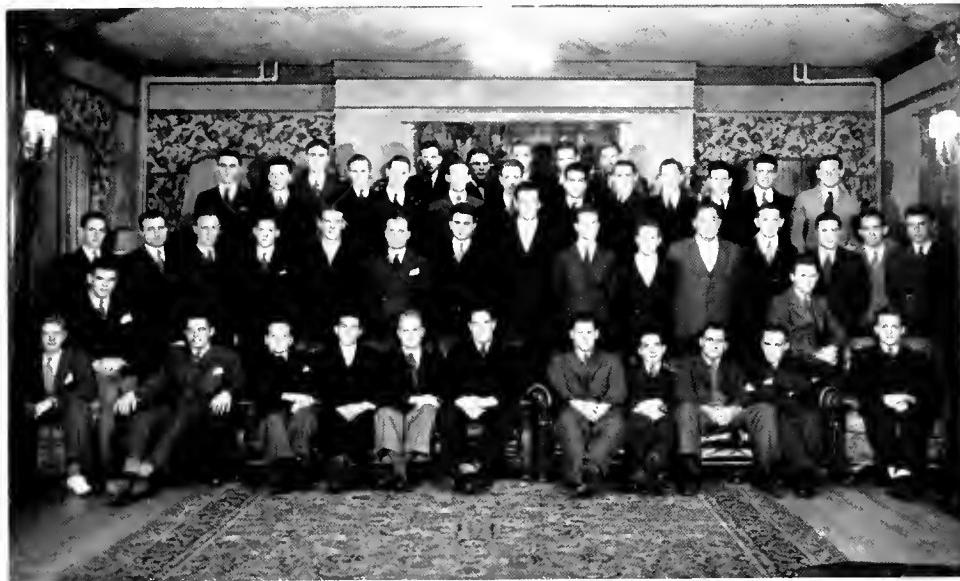

Sigma Alpha Epsilon, by capturing two major intramural sports championships and gaining second place in two others, leads all other fraternities in points toward the all-year intramural trophy. The cross-country team snared itself second place. S.A.E. defeated Phi Gamma Delta in a close contest to win the soccer cup. In the winter intramural contests they annexed the basketball cup and took second place in the foul-shooting.

In the field of varsity sports Zeta Chapter is well represented. Among the many football players are Co-Captain Ralph Furiell and Captain-Elect John Sitarsky. Davis, Smith, Delaney, and Sitarsky represent the fraternity on the varsity basketball court.

KAPPA SIGMA

FOUNDED AT THE UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA, 1869

PENNSYLVANIA ALPHA PHI CHAPTER

Established, 1896

ALPHA PHI CHAPTER of Kappa Sigma tried out a new wrinkle in fraternity management on the Bucknell campus this year when they secured the services of Brother Bianchi, '29, to serve as house manager.

In the field of government Berlin served as the president of the Senior Class and of the Interfraternity Council. Logue acted as the Sophomore Class representative on the Student Council. Gwynne, Speck, and Richards were members of the Freshman Week Committee.

Kappa Sigma is well represented in other fields of extra-curricular activities. Twenty-three are in the Glee Club; four in Cap and Dagger; and five in the Bucknellians. Decker and Gwynne act as assistant editor and business manager respectively of the Handbook.

Two outstanding ends on the football team were Filer and Wilkinson, both of whom received many favorable comments on their playing. Filer is also a basketball player of renown. The tennis team is helped out by the two veterans, Green and Daugherty.

DELTA SIGMA

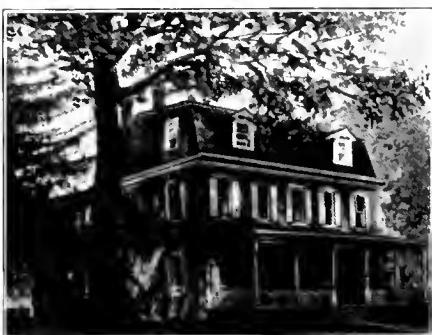

Established at Bucknell, 1899

THE outstanding activity of Delta Sigma's program each year is the presentation of a play in celebration of its Founders' Day. The production of this play is handled completely by members of the fraternity; members design and build the scenery, a director is chosen from the fraternity, and the male actors are all members of Delta Sigma. Women students are invited to play the women's parts in the play. This year the thirty-sixth anniversary of the founding of Delta Sigma was marked by the presentation of the play "He" before a large group of alumni, students, and members of the faculty and administration of the University. The play was presented on the evening of March 29. On the next evening a banquet was held at the fraternity, and was followed by a smoker.

Delta Sigma was saddened in November by the death of Brother Alvin P. Mandell, of the class of 1935. His passing is deeply felt by the fraternity.

Delta Sigma held a pledge dance in November, a formal dinner-dance in January, and its annual house party on the week-end of May 3 and 4. Delta Sigma participated in all the intramural sports sponsored by the University.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

FOUNDED AT BOSTON COLLEGE, 1909
PENNSYLVANIA DELTA ZETA CHAPTER

Established, 1913

DELTA ZETA CHAPTER of Lambda Chi Alpha returned to a newly decorated house this fall, and swung right into school activities.

A fine record has been made in the intramural athletics so far this fall. A team composed of Noecker, Derrick, Mills, and Harries took first place in the cross-country, with Noecker winning individual honors. In the struggle for the soccer cup Lambda Chi Alpha secured third place. The basketball team, of which Derrick, Harries, Wittmer, Ledden, and Zigarelli were the mainstays, reached the semi-finals, only to lose to the strong S.A.E. organization. George Berry played varsity basketball.

George Porter and Jesse Schmick represent this fraternity on the stage.

Ed Wittmer is active in the business affairs of Cap and Dagger.

Al Pernetti and Al Williams lead Bucknell cheering, with the former acting as head cheer leader. Several of the brothers are members of honorary fraternities.

KAPPA DELTA RHO

FOUNDED AT MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE, 1904

PENNSYLVANIA IOTA CHAPTER

Established, 1921

KAPPA DELTA RHO boasts one hundred percent participation in extra-curricular activities. All men, actives and pledges, are interested in some school activity not connected with the fraternity.

Talent seems to run high along the musical line. In the symphony orchestra we have two members; in the school band four players; three men sing in the Glee Club; and one member plays with the string quartet. For the Glee Club James Johnson acts in the capacity of assistant manager.

William Iveson is varsity track manager for the coming spring track meets. He receives the help of Robert Bonn and Ferdinand Autenrieth, who are trying out for his position next year. As soon as the golf links are in condition again for play Donald Bean will be contending for his position on the team. Walter Batog and Ernest Mueller are two likely prospects for the freshman baseball team.

During the past semester Eugene Rohr has been the business manager for Cap and Dagger. In the Christian Association John Bergen is the treasurer, while James Johnson is a member of the freshman cabinet.

ALPHA CHI MU

FOUNDED AT BUCKNELL, 1921

ALPHA CHI MU has always tried to participate in school activities, and this year is no exception. It is represented in almost all of the extra-curricular activities.

Clinton Condict served as president of the sophomore class during the present year. Charles Perry is a member of the Student-Faculty Congress and president of Kappa Phi Kappa, national honorary education fraternity.

In the field of varsity athletics Alpha Chi Mu was represented by Clinton Condict and Clyde Noll of the soccer team.

This fraternity has among its members several members of the Glee Club; of Cap and Dagger; and of the publications. Alpha Chi Mu is quite prominent in the affairs of the Christian Association and the Student Church.

THETA UPSILON OMEGA

FOUNDED AT NEW YORK CITY, 1923
PENNSYLVANIA ZETA ALPHA CHAPTER
Established, 1924

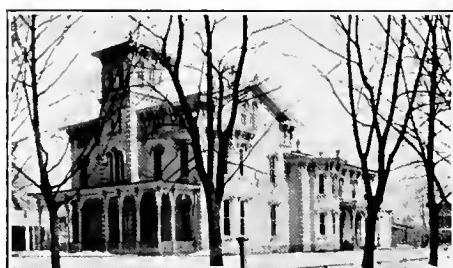

ZETA ALPHA, a charter chapter of Theta Upsilon Omega, one of the fastest growing of young national fraternities, has carved out for itself a prominent place on the Bucknell Campus.

Many of the members have distinguished themselves in the extra-curricular activities. Theodore Gerakares, besides being a regular on the varsity soccer team, is president of Sigma Tau Delta and a member of the debating team.

T.U.O. has nine members in the Glee Club, and representatives in dramatics, publications, band, symphony orchestra, Christian Association Cabinet, cheerleading, honorary fraternities, and other campus organizations.

In social activities Theta Upsilon Omega is well known on the campus for her dances, especially the Apache Dance, the oldest one of its type at Bucknell.

In the field of sports Leroy Rohde and Willard Leavitt are varsity and assistant managers respectively of the football team. Gerald Donavan is a member of the Intramural Athletic Council. T.U.O.'s entrants in the Intramural Sports program have distinguished themselves by placing second in the cross-country run, winning the foul-shooting contest, and snaring the second rung in the yearly race for the all-year trophy.

PHI LAMBDA THETA

FOUNDED AT PENNSYLVANIA STATE COLLEGE, 1920

GAMMA CHAPTER

Established, 1920; Dissolved, 1935

GAMMA CHAPTER of Phi Lambda Theta, bowing under the force of adverse circumstances, closed its doors after a first semester struggle to keep the organization alive at Bucknell. The dissolution saw the termination of an eventful ten-year history.

Four years ago Gamma ranked with the highest in fraternity membership. Its rushing campaigns had brought as high as twenty-five yearlings annually. The decline was swift. The unfortunate entrance of the infantile paralysis epidemic into the chapter house in the midst of the 1931 rushing season together with the general drop in University enrollment culminated the fraternity's downfall.

During their stay on the campus the Phi Thetas showed unusual enthusiasm in contributing in all the fields of activity. Throughout their history they maintained a high status on the academic roster.

Gamma members were widely recognized in publications, dramatics, forensics, and music. Important editorial positions, managerships, class offices, and varsity athletic awards were won by the Phi Thetas. The Gamma social season which always included four dances and Houseparty, had gained a warm campus following.

It is with regret that Gamma must bid farewell to Bucknell. Its passing was inevitable in the face of adversity; farewell in February, 1935, meant a clean and honorable exit. Such a departure was entirely consistent with the past Phi Lambda Theta history.

HANDICAPPED by the lack of active members, Alpha Phi Delta entered into the new school year. Rushing revealed a brighter aspect with the acquisition of six pledges.

The beginning of the intramural soccer found only eight men ready to play since three pledges were members of the freshman football team. Not being represented by a full team at any time, the entire schedule was completed, even though rather unsuccessfully. The outstanding result of our athletic endeavors was reaching the finals in basketball—the first time in the chapter's history.

With the loss of but one man through graduation, the prospects seem brighter for the coming year.

SIGMA ALPHA MU

FOUNDED AT THE COLLEGE OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK, 1909
PENNSYLVANIA SIGMA PHI CHAPTER

Established, 1932

SIΓMA PHI CHAPTER of Sigma Alpha Mu has consistently contributed to the development of a true campus life at Bucknell. Its members have been conspicuous in many fields of activity.

Academically it has been especially outstanding, having been awarded the Scholarship Cup for the past two semesters. In Pi Sigma Alpha, honorary political science fraternity, they are represented by Irving Glickfeld, president, and Harry Goldman.

Active in the student government is Bernard Glazier, member of the Interfraternity Council, Intramural Athletic Council, and the School Spirit Committee. Sidney Kanengiser is representative to the Interfraternity Council.

Several members participated on the various publications. Others were named to the class dance committees.

The Chapter added to the University athletic rosters. Kanengiser, Glazier, and Goldman played varsity soccer; in the basketball line-up were Kanengiser and H. Simon; while on the tennis court Glickfeld was in action. Promising material is forthcoming as evidenced by the work of Kanter and Friedman on the yearling football team and with Zager on the freshman basketball squad.

PI BETA PHI

FOUNDED AT MONMOUTH COLLEGE IN 1867

PENNSYLVANIA BETA CHAPTER

Established at Bucknell in 1895

PI BETA PHI is the oldest national fraternity for women, and Pennsylvania Beta was the first chapter of a national fraternity for women to be established on the campus at Bucknell. It has never become inactive and has been constantly growing since the time of its installation.

The members of Pi Beta Phi have a wide variety of activities. Cap and Dagger, the local dramatic society, is the interest of many Pi Phis. Many of our Pledges are particularly interested in the college weekly publication, The Bucknellian Women's College Editor is a Pi Beta Phi Pledge. The chapter is enrolled one hundred percent in both Christian and Women's Athletic Associations. Pi Beta Phi has members in C.E.A., local honorary society; Sigma Tau Delta, honorary English fraternity; Theta Alpha Phi, honorary dramatic fraternity, and other societies activities.

Pi Beta Phi has a basketball and hockey team and enters in the annual interfraternity sports. The individual members of Pi Phi enter into the annual spring and fall tennis tournaments and have been active in the ping-pong contest this winter.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

FOUNDED AT BOSTON UNIVERSITY, 1888

TAU CHAPTER

Established, 1904

DELTA DELTA DELTA began the new year by winning the hockey championship for the second consecutive year. We were also runner-up in the basketball tournament.

Tri-Delta is active in many campus activities. Several members are prominent in Cap and Dagger and in Mu Phi Epsilon, while seven Deltas belong to C.E.A., the women's honorary fraternity. Lyetta Marshak was awarded the George Morris Phillips Mathematics prize for freshmen at Convocation. Tri-Delta is also represented in the Symphony Orchestra, Mixed Chorus, Women's Athletic Association, L'Agenda staff, and the Bucknell Christian Association.

Deltas hold the following offices: secretary of the Senior Class; president of C.E.A.; house president; and vice-president of the Sophomore Class.

Three very successful dances were held this year. Delta Delta Delta's national president visited the campus and a tea was given in her honor.

KAPPA DELTA

FOUNDED AT VIRGINIA STATE NORMAL SCHOOL, 1897

PHI TAU CHAPTER

Established, 1915

DURING the past year Kappa Delta has contributed to the life of the campus in the following ways: members of our sorority are connected with Cap and Dagger, in the fields of make-up, costuming, and acting; with the Art Club; the Symphony Orchestra; the Mixed Chorus; and the Bucknellian and L'Agenda staffs.

In the social world, we have held three very successful dances, and have entertained our patronesses with teas and bridges; Kappa Delta pledges gave their traditional tea for the girls of other sororities.

The President of the Women's Student Government Association is a Kappa Delta; we cooperate with Pan-Hellenic Council; there are two of our members on the Y.W.C.A. cabinet; and we are represented on W.A.A. The following class offices are held by Kappa Deltas: secretary of the sophomore class, president of sophomore women, and secretary-treasurer of senior women.

Six members of the May Queen's court were Kappa Deltas. We have members in the following honoraries: Pi Mu Epsilon, Theta Alpha Phi, Phi Sigma, and C.E.A. In the sports activities we participated in the hockey, basketball, tennis, baseball, and ping-pong tournaments.

ETA CHAPTER

Established, 1898; Reorganized, 1921

AS we slowly turn the pages of the social history of Eta of Alpha Chi Omega, it is with a feeling of sincere pride that we enter the activities of 1935. The honors and achievements out-number and out-weigh any previous year.

Alpha Chi's hold the reins of Treasurer of the Senior Class, Vice-President of the Senior Girls, Vice-President of the Junior Girls, and President of the Freshman Girls as well as the committee chairman of Mother's Day and May Day. The News Editor of the Bucknellian, Assistant Editor of the new Freshman Handbook, and Editor of Sigma Tau Delta are Alpha Chi's. The feminine leads in "Macbeth" and "Counselor-At-Law" were filled, as were several other roles, by Eta-ites, not to mention Theta Alpha Phi Vice-Presidency and Secretary of Cap and Dagger.

Other achievements are: Treasurer of Student Senate, Treasurer of W.A.A., members of Christian Association Cabinet, Mixed Chorus, Pan-Hellenic, four members of the Senior Advisory Council, dormitory "house presidents," Chairman of Tap Dancing Club, Biological Society, runners-up in intersorority hockey, good basketball season, participants in the ping-pong tourney, and second in scholarship on campus. Three successful dances have been held, topped by the Senior party.

PHI MU

FOUNDED AT WESLEYAN COLLEGE IN 1852

BETA KAPPA CHAPTER

Established, 1922

BEТА KAPPA CHAPTER with eighteen actives and twelve pledges has had a highly successful year. Athletically speaking, we have bowed to only one team and that was the Tri-Delt hockey champions. We captured the baseball cup last spring and the basketball plaque this winter. Two Phi Mu's were runners-up for the tennis championship, and Kay Stannert repeated her victory of last fall.

Phi Mu's hold offices and memberships in many national and local honorary societies. Among these are the secretaryship of Sigma Tau Delta, honorary English society; secretaryship of the honorary mathematics fraternity, Pi Mu Epsilon; members in Mu Phi Epsilon, honorary music; and Phi Sigma, honorary biology fraternities. Phi Mu's also have members in Cap and Dagger, the dramatic society, and in the Symphony Orchestra, String Quartet, Mixed Chorus and Choir. In the campus activities of the Women's College they hold the presidency of the Women's Athletic Association, and house presidency of one of the dormitories.

Our pledge dance found us dancing to the tune of Phil Guinard's Orchestra while Harry Matter waved the baton for the annual winter formal, and spring was ushered in by another successful spring frolic.

SIGMA SIGMA DELTA

FOUNDED AT BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY IN 1924

ALPHA CHAPTER

Established as Laterna Laetitiae

SI G M A S I G M A D E L T A sorority maintains a unique position on the campus in that it is the only national social fraternity to have been founded at Bucknell University. Alpha Chapter was established on November 11, 1924, when the local society, Laterna Laetitiae voted to become a national organization. At its inception Sigma Sigma Delta pledged to maintain the ideals set by the local society from which it was established.

Alpha Chapter members have always maintained an interest in many fields of activity. Academically, it was the leader of the sororities in the scholarship trophy race for the 1934 semester.

Alpha was represented on the Women's Student Senate, the Women's Athletic Association, the Christian Association, and in the several University musical groups, with participants in the Mixed Chorus, the Women's Glee Club, the Chapel Choir, and the Symphony Orchestra. The sorority had members active in contributing to Bucknell Verse, the Forum, and the various discussion groups.

DELTA ZETA

FOUNDED AT MIAMI UNIVERSITY IN 1902
BETA THETA CHAPTER

Established, 1930

IN 1930 Zeta Gamma Tau, a local sorority on Bucknell campus, became a national chapter, Beta Theta, of Delta Zeta sorority. Since that time she has risen to take her place with other campus sororities.

In the semester beginning February, 1934, Delta Zeta ranked second in scholarship among the other sororities.

During the year of 1934-35, the sorority's basketball team lost only two games. The hockey team dropped but two games, which placed it third in athletic standing. For three years Delta Zeta has been awarded the Women's Athletic Association cup, which has given the chapter final possession of the trophy.

Delta Zeta has members in Pan-Hellenic, W.A.A., Pi Mu Epsilon, Delta Phi Alpha, Senior Council, and holds office in the Women's Student Government Association.

SPIRITS

LIFE in the college community is kaleidoscopic. True, there is an element of drudgery in the everyday routine of class attendances, eight o'clocks, periodic quizzes, and final grade sheets. But life on the campus is richly spiced with diversions.

The freshman is initiated in the great lore of Bucknell traditions soon after his arrival, when he suffers a dousing at the hands of his sophomore brethren. He is bound by rules which dictate his dress, his conduct, and even his social pursuits.

The roar of the stadium crowds, the songs and cheers, the band in natty Orange and Blue uniforms . . . the football season is in full sway with thrilling gridiron battles. Then the alumnus comes back on Homecoming Day to look upon the stamping grounds of his youth; he sees the numerals '38 placed on the water tank by intrepid freshmen despite sophomore resistance. In the evening the old frat man visits the chapter house. Would that he could live the life at college over again.

College life never becomes stagnant; it vitalizes ever-changing activity. Numerous dances each weekend fill the calendar for Bucknell men and women. The year is neatly split into four class dance weekends with Houseparty in May as the peak of the social whirl. On other occasions nocturnal tours of the neighboring towns and taverns offers an escape.

Look at the citizen of the college community. He sports white shoes when all the world finds black best suited for winter wear. He violates every canon of conservative dress as he rigs himself in garish costume emulating Esquire fashion plates. She dons trousers on wintry afternoons to express her individuality, yet that very evening at the dance, although the snow be knee-deep, she is attired in flimsy wrap while her toes are adorned with sandals which approach nothingness.

At the end of four years comes the jolt, Commencement. You are no longer a citizen of this community, says the University; make yourself a place in the world. Look out upon the world; all appears cold and hostile.

Football Resume

THE seething question as to the successors of Carl Snavely, Bison mentor for seven years, and Max Reed, his assistant, was finally settled by the appointment of E. E. Mylin, of Lebanon Valley, as head coach, with "Marty" McAndrews, of Penn State, as his assistant. Under their tutelage the Bisons played one of the most strenuous schedules in intercollegiate football to lose but two games, tie two others, and win seven games, including a post-season tilt.

The bare recital of the number of games won and lost conveys no impression of the real drama that developed as the season progressed. The Bisons outscored the Davis-Elkins team in a rather shaky debut. Although outplayed, the Pennsylvania Military College warriors held the Herd to a scoreless tie to end the long home-game winning streak. The "Pittsburgh Jinx" snared the Herd when Duquesne, outplayed much of the way, tallied twice in the last quarter to win. St. Thomas caused the Bisons many anxious moments before they were finally defeated. The Bisons had not appeared very impressive in their first four games.

In the minds of many the season naturally divided itself into two parts, before Villanova, and Villanova and after. Coach Mylin installed a new shift which proved highly successful. Rain, soggy turf, and occasional snow flurries could not halt the Bisons, and they strode off the turf as conquerors of the favored Villanova team by virtue of two last-quarter touchdowns. Imbued with confidence after their victory over the Wildcats, Bucknell travelled to Greenville, S. C., to earn the plaudits of southern sports writers for fine play in a decisive victory over Furman.

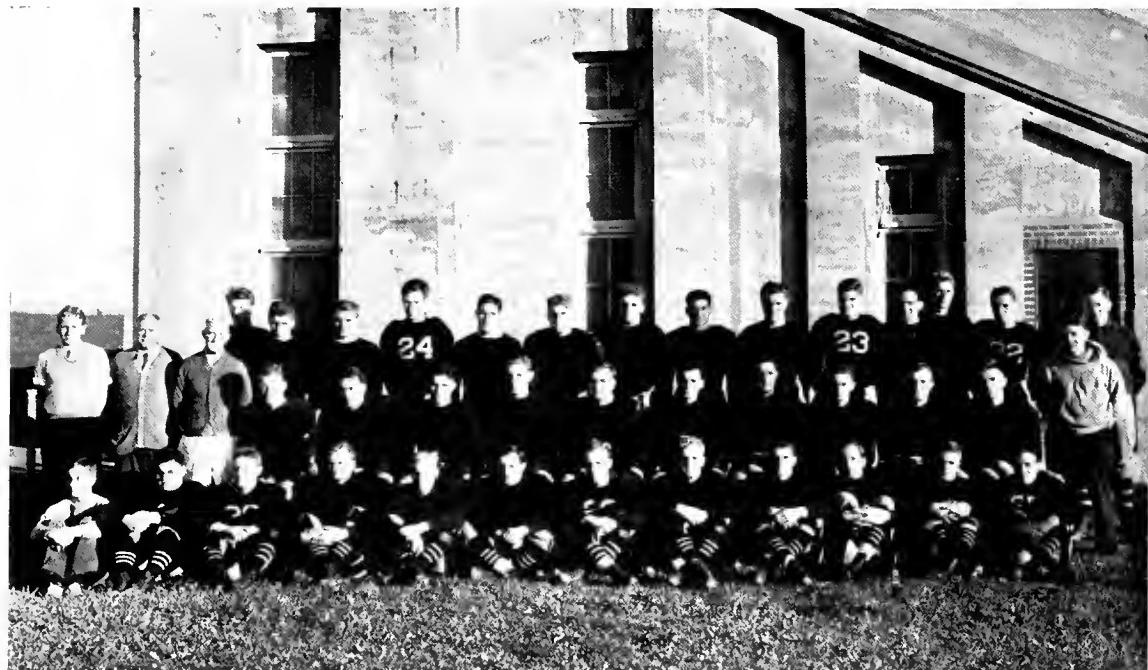

For the first time since the series started in 1901, the Bisons defeated the Prexies of Washington and Jefferson on their home grounds in Washington, Pa. Two passes for touchdowns accounted for the victory after the stubborn defense halted the Bison running attack. In the next contest the Herd met the Undefeated Green Terrors of Western Maryland, only to lose in the last three minutes when a fumble behind the goal line was seized by an alert opponent for the lone score of the game. The Bisons failed to score a first down for the first time in many, many years.

On the next Saturday the Bisons unleashed a powerful aerial attack and some fine ball-carrying to trample Penn State for their fourth straight victory in the long series. The last meeting between these old rivals was in 1930.

On Thanksgiving Day the Bisons held the highly-touted Temple Owls to a tie before 30,000 fans in Temple Stadium. This game thoroughly shattered whatever hopes Temple may have had of a Rose Bowl bid.

In the course of their long schedule the Bisons faced three teams that were undefeated throughout the season. They tied two of these teams and lost to the other by a close score.

DAVIS-ELKINS 0, BUCKNELL 12

The Bisons came through for their new coach with a victory over the strong Davis-Elkins team in a night game. Smith, soph backfield flash, scored both touchdowns for the Bisons. Bucknell scored in the first and third quarters but their spirited opponents kept things in doubt until the closing minutes.

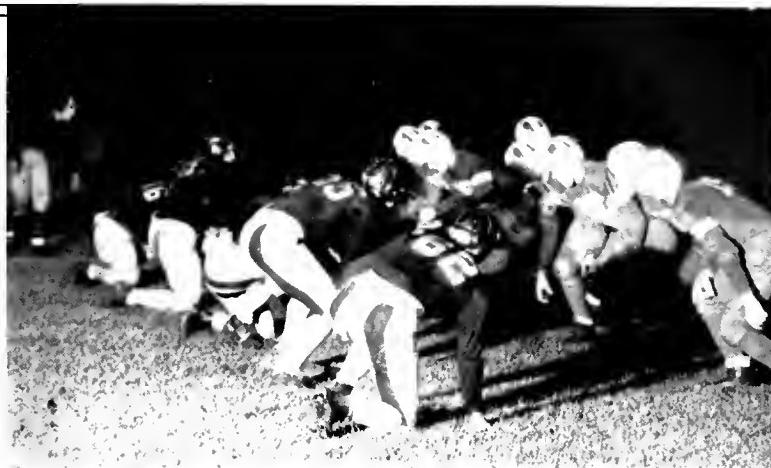

P.M.C. 0, BUCKNELL 0

In the next night game, a scoreless tie with Pennsylvania Military College, the Bison 21 home-game winning streak was broken. The Bisons gained plenty of yardage but fumbles at inopportune moments and "bad breaks" kept them from scoring. Fazio, substitute center, suffered a knee injury which kept him out for the rest of the season.

ST. THOMAS 6 BUCKNELL 13

The Bisons had trouble subduing the Tommies at Scranton. Green, Bison guard, scored from the 4 yard line after blocking a punt, and Reznichak's pass to Miller accounted for the second touchdown. St. Thomas scored from the 1 yard line after the Bisons had held them there for three downs.

Homecoming Day brought 6,000 spectators, snow and rain, and the Villanova Wildcats to the Memorial Stadium. The Bisons demonstrated their superiority all the way, and managed to tally twice in the last quarter as Smith ran 15 yards, and Reznichak plunged 1 foot for scores. Green converted after the first touchdown.

FURMAN 0, BUCKNELL 19

The Mylinmen subdued the Purple Hurricane of Furman by sheer power and weight advantage. Headliner plays of the game were Reznichak's scoring of two touchdowns, Miller's smashing line plunges, Rhubright's sensational 78 yard return of the kickoff, and Sitarsky's four pass interceptions. In crushing Furman Bucknell piled up its largest margin of victory in the 1934 schedule.

WESTERN MARYLAND 6, BUCKNELL 0

PENN STATE 7, BUCKNELL 13

The success of the Bison aerial attack proved a potent factor in Bucknell's win over Penn State. State scored first, in the second quarter, on a surprise fake placement kick from the 23 yard line. The Bisons retaliated with a pass play that worked three times for long gains.

TEMPLE 0, BUCKNELL 0

The Bisons wound up their regular season by outplaying the highly-touted Temple Owls and bottling up the much-publicized Smukler before 30,000 fans. Bucknell linemen made 15 first downs and 191 yards from scrimmage against Temple's 6 first downs and 104 yards.

The Bisons received the marked distinction of inaugurating a national institution in the athletic world, the New Year's Day Orange Bowl classic of Miami, Florida, which Floridians hope will someday rival the Rose and Sugar Bowl tilts in importance.

On the gridiron the Thundering Herd was unkind to their hosts, when, after a slow first quarter, they produced a crushing attack which swamped the University of Miami, 26 to 0.

While the Bison line swept aside the inept resistance of the Southerners, Smith was able to garner two touchdowns with Reznichak and Miller accounting for the other two tallies. Bucknell scored in the first and third quarters and chalked up two touchdowns in the final period.

The game was played under a truly tropical sun. Contrary to expectations the Bisons of the North fared better in the heat than did the Miamians of the South.

Glazier trapped this one and passed to Kanengiser, who registered his second tally.

THE SEASON

Under the leadership of Coach Joe Reno and Captain Thompson, the Bison soccermen won three games, tied two, and lost two in the most successful season since the inception of soccer as a varsity sport here in 1928.

The Bisons started off the season by flashing mid-season form to overwhelm the F. and M. booters, 5 to 2. Youngken, Thompson, Glazier, Kanengiser and Elcome tallied.

By a 3 to 0 score the Army Cadets conquered the Bisons in their second game. The Renomen fought gamely on defense, but finally succumbed to the fast-breaking Army attack.

The Bison defense had little to do as the offense swarmed over the inept Dickinson team to register a 9 to 0 win. Elcome tallied three times.

THE SEASON

Handicapped by inadequate court facilities and by the inexperience of its team consisting mainly of sophomores, Bucknell saw its most dismal basketball season. Not once in their fourteen game schedule were the Risons able to eke out a victory.

Originally entered in the Eastern Intercollegiate Conference with Pittsburgh, Temple West Virginia, Georgetown, and Carnegie Tech, Bucknell deemed it wise to withdraw in midseason when the competition had become entirely too fast. In addition, several of the league members protested against playing on the Tustin Gym floor. Nevertheless, with the exception of games with Pittsburgh and Carnegie Tech, the schedule was completed as planned.

Bucknell failed to keep the pace set by Villanova. Score 36-30.

In the non-league contests Bucknell met with no greater success. Although in games Penn State, Army, Villanova, Georgetown, Dickinson, and Juniata the team showed occasional flashes of real basketball, they never were able to hold the edge long enough to mark up a victory.

Campus commentators predict luck for the Bison next year. The schedule will call for games with teams of the Bucknell calibre, while the team itself, not only replenished with promising freshman material, will have become more seasoned in the ways of court strategy.

Coach Musser was confronted by the situation of having excellent players in college who were unwilling to participate; it is hoped that this difficulty will be remedied.

THE SEASON

The 1934 Bison baseball season was moderately successful with the team winning seven games and losing nine. Two of the losses were by the margin of a single run.

Outstanding games of the season were the two contests with Temple, and the games with Drexel, Juniata, Dickinson, Albright, and Lebanon Valley. The Bisons defeated Drexel, 9 to 8, to win their first game, and dropped a tight one, a few games later, to Albright, 10 to 9.

The Bisons won their first encounter with Temple, 4 to 3, but lost, 24 to 3, in seven innings against the same team later in the season. Bucknell staged close-score tilts with Ursinus and Army. Juniata won their Homecoming Day tilt with the Bisons, 14 to 13.

Records show that the only consistent pitcher of the season was Rhubright who shouldered the burden in a majority of the games. Among the batters, Reznichak with an average of .400 was the king of swat. Sitarsky also swung a mighty dangerous bat.

Since only four lettermen were graduated Coach E. E. Mylin should produce a winning combination for 1935.

THE SEASON

During the 1934 season the Bucknell trackmen engaged in four dual meets and also participated in the Central Pennsylvania Intercollegiates held at Gettysburg.

In the dual meets the points garnered were mostly gained through the strength shown in certain events. In these meets they won all the dashes and in the shotput they took first and second each time and also third twice. In the discus they swept the places in three of the meets and placed first in the other.

IN May of 1932 efficient control of intramural sports was inaugurated with the establishment of the Student Intramural Council. As a new institution the Council was required to render pertinent decisions in the first year test-cases. When it was found that the verdicts were not to be disobeyed the Council achieved the position of arbiter in intramural circles. All protests are now filed with the managers.

The work of the Council is more than judiciary. It formulates the schedules and selects the referees and judges of intramural contests. This body provides the cups and medals for the championship teams and individuals.

The Women's Athletic Council, the governing body of the Women's Athletic Association, is composed of the Director of Physical Education for Women and one representative from each participating group. The primary purpose of the organization is to foster and direct all women athletics.

In the year, 1934-35, it has successfully conducted contests in tennis, hockey, basketball, and baseball. A novel feature of the year's calendar was the ping-pong tournament. The Association was also host to women from four neighboring colleges on its annual Play Day.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

ALTHOUGH Bucknell has been prominent in intercollegiate athletics, it has not forgotten the average sportsman. The policy of having "every student in some sport" drew great numbers to the athletic fields this year.

The Pangburn All Year Intramural Trophy for 1933-34, awarded to the fraternity garnering the most points in the annual competition, was won for the second consecutive year by the Sigma Chi fraternity with a 324 point total. Second place went to Kappa Sigma, while Sigma Alpha Epsilon finished third.

In current competition it appears that Sigma Alpha Epsilon has clinched the coveted trophy for 1934-35, while other positions in the race are at present indeterminable.

TRACK—BASEBALL—TENNIS

The spring season of 1934 saw the Sigma Chi's capture the track and field events held during the Spring Festival. Sigma Alpha Epsilon placed second, with Phi Kappa Psi and Phi Gamma Delta tied for third. Individual honors in track and field were distributed as follows:

In annual men's tournament Sam Nesbit won the singles title and teamed with Frank Dunham to take the doubles crown.

Kay Stannert, Phi Mu, took the women's singles championship for the second consecutive year by defeating Adelaide Case in the final round.

In the baseball competition Sigma Alpha Epsilon took the 1934 cup, when it defeated Theta Upsilon Omega two games out of three in the championship series. Phi Kappa Psi and Kappa Sigma were the semi-finalists.

Phi Mu sorority swept aside all opposition in women's baseball to complete a six-game schedule without suffering defeat. Delta Delta Delta was runner-up to the championship Phi Mu team.

CROSS COUNTRY—SOCCER—HOCKEY

Lambda Chi Alpha captured the first cup of the current year when their boys, Noecker, Derrick, Mills, and Harries, brought home the bacon in the cross country run. Theta Upsilon Omega and Sigma Alpha Epsilon finished second with Sigma Chi in fourth place.

Frank Noecker, L.C.A., led the pack to the finish line in the grueling run of three and six-tenths miles. The order of the first ten runners was: Noecker, Blanche, Carpenter, Peterson, Derrick, Donovan, Marvin, W. Ballard, McKee, and Gerakares. Winning time: 22 minutes, 5 seconds.

In the first league competition of the fall season, soccer, Sigma Alpha Epsilon was the cup winner with Phi Gamma Delta, the finalist. Phi Kappa Psi and Theta Upsilon Omega were semi-finalists.

Delta Delta Delta again took the hockey crown after having shattered the six-year reign of Alpha Chi Omega. The league battle centered about the Tri-Delts and Alpha Chi, each having won three games and tied one. The championship play-off went to the Tri-Delts, 2-0.

• SPRING AND FALL

BOXING

As a preliminary to varsity competition, intramural boxing bouts were staged early in the winter. Phi Gamma Delta captured the ring trophy, while Non-fraternity and Phi Kappa Psi tied for second; Kappa Sigma placed fourth.

The winners in each of the weight classes were:

- 115 lb.—Peterson, N.F.; Herman, N.F., finalist
- 125 lb.—Bailey, P.G.D.; Thomas, P.K.P., finalist
- 135 lb.—Androski, P.G.D.; Corby, K.S., finalist
- 145 lb.—Beck, P.G.D.; Ricigliano, A.P.D., finalist
- 155 lb.—Vogel, P.K.P.; Fletcher, K.S., finalist

BASKETBALL

Continuing their winning ways in the winter schedule Sigma Alpha Epsilon annexed the basketball cup, when they defeated Alpha Phi Delta in the finals. Sigma Chi and Lambda Chi Alpha were semi-finalists.

Theta Upsilon Omega men proved steadiness of hand when they looped 66 out of 100 baskets to take first place in the foul-shooting contest; Sigma Alpha Epsilon captured second place with Sigma Chi and Non-fraternity tied for third. Dunham of Non-fraternity took individual honors with 23 out of 25 while Leavitt, T.U.O., with 22 and Foltz, S.A.E., with 21 placed second and third respectively.

Phi Mu, again, was not stopped in intersorority league competition when it finished an undefeated basketball schedule to take the championship. Delta Delta Delta losing only to Phi Mu was the league runner-up.

WRESTLING

The sponsoring of wrestling matches by the Council was favorably received in intramural circles. It is felt that its inception on the intramural calendar heralds the entrance of Bucknell into intercollegiate wrestling competition.

Sigma Chi led by Kottcamp, former District A.A.U. champion, made a sweep of the matches taking four championships. The wrestling crowns were distributed as follows:

- 125 lb.—Siegmeyer, S.A.M.; Drum, S.C., finalist
- 135 lb.—Kottcamp, S.C.; White, S.C., finalist
- 145 lb.—Miller, S.A.E.; Quirk, P.K.P., finalist
- 155 lb.—Ballard, P.G.D.; Barnes, K.S., finalist
- 165 lb.—Thompson, S.C.; Brockway, S.C., finalist
- 175 lb.—Lotowycz, S.C.; Vrabel, S.A.E., finalist
- Unlimited—Boiston, S.C.; More, S.A.E., finalist

The Bucknell intramural champions met the titleholders of Penn State at State College in a match which was taken by the Nittany Lion, 7-1. White was the only Bison winner.

HANDBALL

Marty Pocius won the handball title defeating Phil Miller in the finals. Frank Dunham and Sam Nesbit were semi-finalists.

VOLLEYBALL

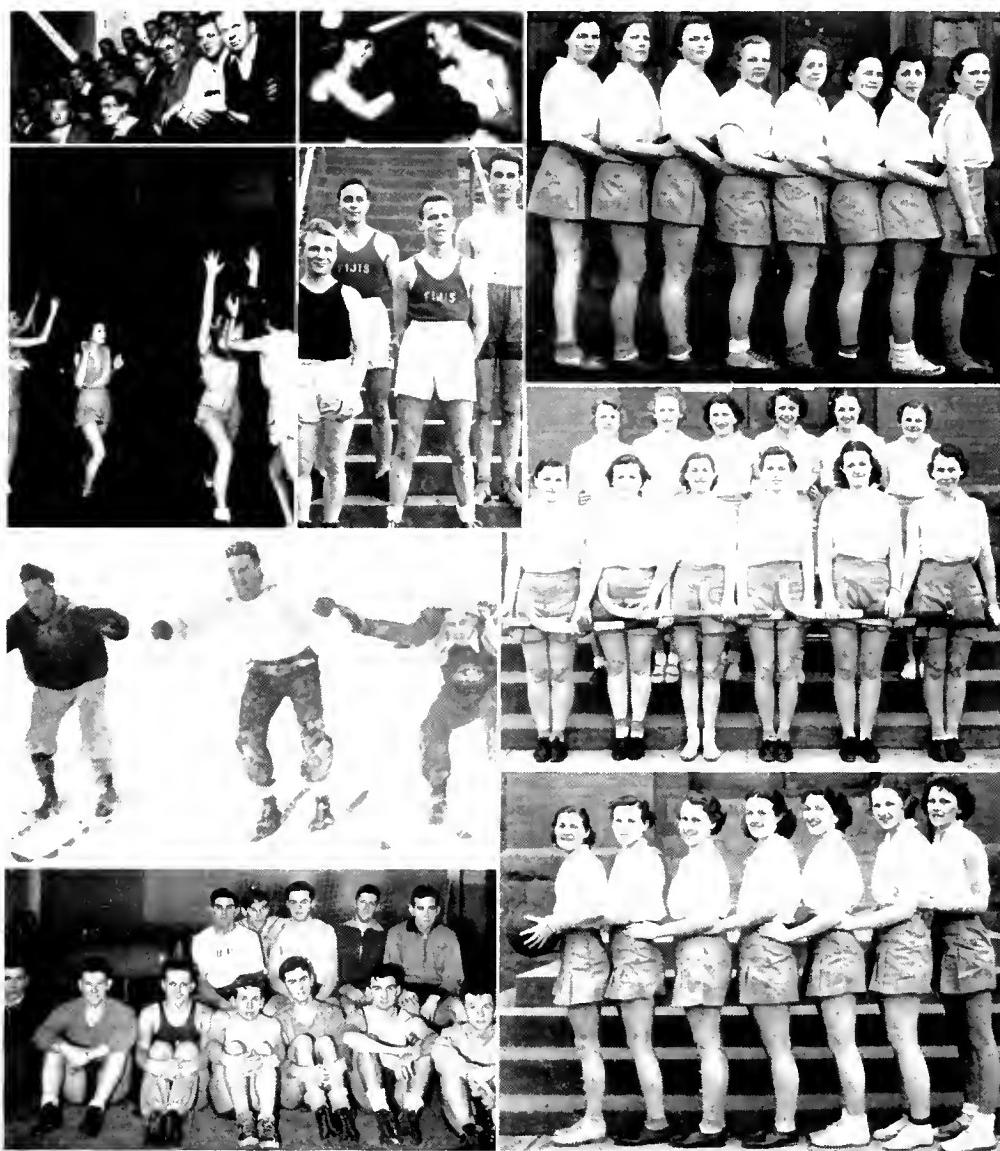

The incomplete results of volleyball found Sigma Chi and Sigma Alpha Epsilon leading League I, while Phi Kappa Psi and Alpha Chi Mu headed the League II competition.

PING-PONG

The ping-pong tournament sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association was won by Jane Glunt, A.C.O., when she defeated Beth Druckemiller, P.B.P., in the finals. After taking the championship Miss Glunt announced that she would defend her title against all comers.

of 1936 •

• WINTER

The Review

The Review

THAT 1936 L'Agenda be preserved as a reasonably complete summary of the college year, the editors have compiled The Review Section. The structure of the page layouts and the physical limitations of two hundred odd pages made it impossible to present in the annual proper the name, write-up, and photograph of every person or event.

In The Review are contained a record of the year's highlights, the memberships of leading activities groups, a list of organizations and athletic teams, a roster of administration, faculty, and classes. Wherever possible The Review has been indexed to facilitate easy references.
